

R.I.S.E. trains volunteer tutors to provide access to evidence-based reading intervention to ALL children regardless of economic status.

Traditionally, this type of reading instruction has only been available through expensive private tutoring.

Intervention

Learning to read is the most difficult task many students will encounter when they begin school. If Structured Literacy™ is introduced early, reading failure may be prevented.

Reading Intervention Starts Early, R.I.S.E., is specifically designed to target children from economically disadvantaged backgrounds who are struggling to learn to read.

R.I.S.E. tutoring will include direct instruction in:

- Letter recognition
- Letter formation
- Letter sounds
- Finger spelling
